

Women at STO

At STO we take it for granted to treat female and male employees equally in all concerns of their work. However we have to admit that there are still more male than female employees working in our Glass Group.

This certainly goes back to the old tradition of male glass makers. During the past few years the percentage of female employees at the cold end section has increased significantly. This happened mainly because women do make up their mind for a certain job already before applying for it.

STO was Austria's and – as far as we know - even Europe's first glass manufacturer to train a woman successfully as machine operator. Girls' day is the perfect opportunity for STO to show how many interesting jobs can be learned and successfully done by females.
