

YOUR PRESTIGE GLASS PARTNER

Fascinated by glass? Stölzle-Oberglas has a proud tradition of over 200 years' glass production and combines traditional glass making with state-of-the-art technology. Stölzle has gained a unique position in Europe as a one-stop-shop across the entire range of packaging glass required by the Prestige and Beauty as well as Healthcare and Consumer markets. In order to build on our success, we want to strengthen our Tableware Division sales team. We are looking for:

Area Sales Manager (m/f) DACH Region

Responsibilities will concentrate on the support of established customers together with the acquisition of new ones. The sales area includes Austria, Germany and Switzerland and covers the fields of breweries, food, hotels, etc. You will be responsible for turnover and budgets and will cooperate closely with the production departments' product management.

We are looking for someone with sales qualifications and long-term experience in a similar position. Considerable knowledge of the glass industry will be an advantage. The successful applicant will have excellent English, rigorous professionalism, the ability to negotiate and close sales contracts, a creative approach, and commitment both to the position and to their personal development.

Stölzle welcomes applications from candidates fascinated by the world of glass. Write with photograph and CV to:
